Canadian Natural continues with the safe and staged start-up of production at both our Primrose and Kirby South operations. The repairs to equipment were minor in nature and have not impeded our ability to ramp up production volumes. Canadian Natural anticipates achieving normal rates of production this week.

Pre-start safety checks and initial assessment of our equipment continues to take place at our Primrose operations. Further assessments will be ongoing for the next several days concurrent with a staged and safe start-up of production. Progressing through the staged start up, indications at this point show only minor repairs are required and until the full assessment is completed, no timeline is available for Primrose to reach full capacity at this time. At Kirby South, production is now ramping back up as the third party pipeline restarted late June 2, 2015.
